PANCHO VILLA and Satan Bandits; Arm! Prepare to Drive Them Out!

Both Attack Border While It Sleeps and Must Be Driven Out and Hunted Down Like the Bandits They Are.

By Rev. W. C. BABER of the Altura Presbyterian Church.

Text: Jas. 4: 7. "Resist the devil, and he will flee from you."

SIN makes his raid upon God's country and, finding the border guard asleep, or insufficient, rides boldly in to slaughter men, women and children, regardless of age or sex. When this ruthless invader gets in, it costs sacrifices, maybe blood and tears to drive him out again.

Must Keep Him Out.

After he is driven out, it is intolerable for a high minded Christian people to let him slip down to permit his entry again with slaughter of the innocent. A brave people must pursue and hunt down the old bandit, Satan, to drive him from the face of the earth. No small scouting party, no matter how intrepid, is sufficient. It takes an army, well organized and equipped and of sufficient force to run him down in his lair and smother the fastness of his evil mountains.

Many Troops Needed.

Solid masses of infantry must be marshaled into his territory, supported by artillery of all dimensions flanked by cavalry, to do scout duty and to protect the lines of communication, with airplanes to sail overhead to find the elusive bandit, since Satan never fights without the odds on his side unless brought to bay.

Many Cliffs and Ravines.

Many cliffs and ravines must be kept in touch with all the units in the field and with the home base, by phone, telegraph or wireless. In case of need or distress on the part of any unit, relief must be had with adequate reinforcements from the home base. The soldier must be pushed, prodded, punished, pulverized. The honor of our cause and nation is at stake. Let no soldier escape, all are to be taken, the bandit destroyed and the repentant saved. Our Great Commander, the captain of our salvation, has given us marching orders. "Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature."

Satan a Coward.

Shall brand of victory triumph over righteousness? Satan is a miserable coward. He delights to attack in the dark and under cover. He always runs when pursued in force. We could have put him off the face of the earth years ago had we organized and had the nerve to follow and attack him in his several secret hiding places. Oh, equip the multitude, wake to the blast of the trumpet! The old enemy of your soul and of your hearthstone is to be hunted to the death. Let the militant note stir the heart of every man, woman and child. The one who has enslaved and degraded you is to be chased and captured and deprived of his power.

Common Enemy.

It is a common cause and against the common enemy of mankind. Who is so cowardly, who is so recreant to his duty, as to say we cannot? The soldier, the brother, the diva, the star of high places and seeming respectability can all be destroyed. Only the coward, or the partner to the crime, hangs his head and says "It is a necessary evil and it cannot be done. This is a day when there is need for men."

NEW ALTA VISTA MISSION TO BE OPENED ON SUNDAY

L. Holloway. Scollard's "Churchless" Population Is 1,788,000

Glasgow, Scotland, March 25.—An unofficial church census of Scotland shows the total adult membership of the Protestant churches as 1,238,000, to which are added "children and adults" bringing the total to 2,427,000. The Roman Catholic church has 548,000 followers, making the total church population 2,975,000. This deducted from the total population gives a "churchless" population of 1,788,000.

Daring Exploit of Two Germans Wins Iron Cross of First Class for Both

Berlin, Germany, March 25.—A report of the German general staff announces that Lieut. Rudolph Heiderich, of the Forty-ninth reserve infantry regiment, and Serg. Kurt Almer have been decorated with the Iron Cross of the first class for an exploit of exceptional daring.

They have been fighting in the Champagne for nearly a year. Recently the commander of their regiment called for two volunteers who would risk getting behind the French lines so as to obtain information in regard to certain movements of the enemy. Lieut. Heiderich, who speaks French like a native, offered his services and selected as his companion Serg. Almer, who also has mastered the French language.

Disguised as French peasants, the officer and sergeant sneaked through a small forest in the dark night and crept through wire entanglements. They had penetrated the lines of the enemy, but they were held up by a French patrol and sent to the trench, where they were rightly searched and questioned for more than an hour. After a long consultation by three French officers, the sergeant was released and ordered to leave the neighborhood of the front as quickly as possible.

The two spies walked in a southerly direction about eight miles and then tried to get back to the German lines by making a wide detour. On their march they paid close attention to the French positions, the munitions depots and the strength of the enemy troops. They were not stopped once.

When about a hundred yards from the German front, the sergeant commanded them to halt, but they started to run. A hail of bullets was sent after them from a trench and one of the missiles shattered the left arm of Lieut. Heiderich. Serg. Almer, who remained unharmed, dragged the wounded officer along and both of them reached the German position.

Germany Builds Defence Trenches Which It Does Not Expect To Be Used

Berlin, Germany, March 25.—The construction and organization of our works of defence behind the present "front," says the "Vossische Zeitung," has cost an enormous amount of work in spite of the fact that we all hope that these trenches and shelters may never be used.

Our new trenches are quite different from those we made during the first months of the war. Instead of constructing one long single trench with communication trenches to those behind, our soldiers now build a series of shorter trenches with intervals. A short distance behind these is a second line of sections, and this is again followed by a third. All these trenches are connected by subterranean passages and behind each is a large shelter, shelter into which every man can flee at the slightest proof of danger.

As a result, even a very heavy bombardment is now unavailing, for our men are never exposed until the moment when the hostile infantry actually starts to attack.

And a certain woman, which had an issue of blood 12 years.

And suffered many things of many physicians, and had spent all that she had, and was nothing bettered, but rather grew worse.

When she had heard of Jesus, came in the press behind, and touched his garment.

For she said, If I may touch but his clothes, I shall be whole.

And straightway the fountain of her blood was healed, and she felt in her body that she was healed of that plague.

And Jesus, immediately knowing to himself the virtue that was gone out of him, turned him about in the press, and said, Who touched my clothes?

And his disciples said unto him, Thou seest the multitude thronging thee, and sayest thou, Who touched me?

And he looked round about to see her that had done this thing.

But the woman, fearing, and trembling, knowing what was done in her, came and fell down before him, and said unto him, My daughter, be of good cheer, for thy faith hath made thee whole; go in peace, and be whole of thy plague.
